Dear John McLaren,

I never got round to thanking you for your review of my last book, Red Letter Days, in the Melb. Herald.

In checking over the 35/36 reviews that the book got, we noticed recently that it was the only one that told me things (about the book), that I hadn't realised; and that, despite differences in approach, you could still write so warmly of it.

Belatedly, thanks,
Jack Beasley
