Dear John,

THE DREAM AND THE REALITY

This second copy of your work has just turned up. Apparently one of our readers tucked it into his rucksack on his way overseas. Needed some light reading on a plane or sled I guess.

Anyway here it is. We wrestled with the temptation to publish but I think you'll concede that a publisher like any other tradesman should "stick to his last". Your work deserves the attention, pre-publication to marketing and promotion, or someone who is at home with high-standard literary criticism.

Good luck and every good wish for a productive 1983.

Regards,

John Iremonger
Publisher.
